Duty to uphold the Constitution in the public service

Announcement of the Bavarian Government relating to the duty to uphold the constitution in the civil service (Verfassungstreue – VerftöDBek) of 3 December 1991 (StAnz. number 49, FMBl. p. 510, AIIMBl. p. 895), which was last changed by announcement dated September 27, 2016 (AIIMBl. p. 2138)

Part I. General Terms

1. In accordance with the Basic Law, the Constitution, the Civil Service Status Act (BeamStG), and the German Law on Judges - one may only be appointed as a civil servant or judge if he/she offers the guarantee that he/she will at all times stand up for the free democratic constitution in the sense of the Basic Law and the Constitution;
- civil servants and judges shall be required to make an active contribution, both within and outside the service, to the maintenance of these Regulations. These are mandatory provisions.

2. Principles for the Assessment

- 2.1 Each individual case must be examined and decided on its own merits. The following principles are to be assumed:

2.2 Applicants

- 2.2.1 A candidate who develops anti-constitutional activities shall not be hired as a public servant.
- 2.2.2 If an applicant belongs to an organization which pursues anti-constitutional goals, such membership shall give rise to doubts as to whether he/she will at all times stand up for the free democratic constitution.
- 2.2.3 Anyone who has violated the principles of humanity or the rule of law or worked for the Ministry of State Security or the Office for National Security of the former GDR is not suitable for public service under the rule of law.

2.3 Civil Servants and Judges

- If a civil servant or judge does not fulfil the requirements of § 33 (1) sentence 3 BeamStG - in the case of a judge in conjunction with § 71 of the German Judges Act - in virtue of his/her conduct or his/her membership in an organization with an anti-constitutional objective, by which he is obligated to uphold the free democratic principles in the sense of the Basic Law, and the employer shall, on the basis of the facts ascertained, draw the appropriate conclusions and, in particular examine whether the removal of the civil servant or judge from office is justified.

3. Employees

- For manual workers and salaried employees in the public sector, the following rules apply in accordance with same principles in the respective collective bargaining provisions.

Part II. Procedure

The Bavarian Government has reinforced the commitment of all public employers in Bavaria to these principles.

The following decisions have been made with regard to enforcing these principles:

1. The applicant shall be given the instructions and information contained in Annex 1 prior to his or her hiring. The applicant shall also be given a list of extremist organizations and organizations influenced by extremists. On the basis of this list, the applicant shall complete the questionnaire contained in Annex 2 and subsequently sign the declaration in Annex 3. Persons who were employed in Bavaria's civil service within a period of three years prior to the current employment period shall not be examined again, barring suspicious circumstances. However, in case of suspicious circumstances that have not yet been examined, items 1 through 6 shall be carried out again. In either case, the applicant shall sign the declaration contained in Annex 4.

If the questionnaire is not signed or is incomplete and this leads to doubt concerning the applicant's loyalty to the constitution, an examination of loyalty to the constitution will generally require obtaining relevant information from the Landesamt für Verfassungsschutz (with the applicant's consent). The relevant information shall additionally be obtained from the Bundesbeauftragten für die Unterlagen des Staatssicherheitsdienstes der ehemaligen Deutschen Demokratischen Republik for applicants from the acceding territory of the former GDR referred to in § 20 para 1 number 6 item (d), item (h) and § 21 para 1 number 6 item (d), item (h) of the StUG.

2. If the applicant refuses to sign the declaration in Annex 3 or Annex 4 or if suspicion arises in connection with the answers provided in the questionnaire, or if there are other reasons to doubt that the applicant would uphold and defend the principles of liberal democracy as set forth in the Basic Law and Bavarian constitution at all times, then this suspicion must be allayed prior to hiring the applicant. In particular, this involves:

– contacting the Landesamt für Verfassungsschutz, to enquire whether facts are known which would speak against hiring the applicant. The Landesamt für Verfassungsschutz is obligated to reply to such requests without delay. If information is presented, only those details which concern facts that could be used as evidence in a court of law are to be used.

– contacting the Bundesbeauftragten für die Unterlagen des Staatssicherheitsdienstes der ehemaligen Deutschen Demokratischen Republik for applicants from the acceding territory of the former GDR referred to in § 20 para 1 number 6 item (d), item (h) and § 21 para 1 number 6 item (d), (e), and (h) of the StUG (with the consent of the applicant).

3. For those applicants born prior to 12 January 1972 and who are from the acceding territory of the former GDR referred to in § 20 para 1 number 6 item (d), item (h) and § 21 para 1 number 6 item (d), item (h) of the StUG, the Bundesbeauftragte für die Unterlagen des Staatssicherheitsdienstes der ehemaligen Deutschen Demokratischen Republik shall always be contacted (with the consent of the applicant) to ensure the applicant did not carry out any activities for the Ministerium für Staatssicherheit or the Amt für nationale Sicherheit der früheren DDR.

The applicant's appointment shall be revoked if he or she is shown to have falsely denied working for the Ministerium für Staatssicherheit or the Amt für Nationale Sicherheit der früheren DDR (Article 12 BeamStG).

In addition, applicants from the acceding territory may be hired for a fixed term of 12 months, subject to the results of the examination, as long as there are urgent official reasons for doing so and no suspicious circumstances are known.

The temporary nature of the contract is due to the examination that is being carried out. If extension of the contract is to be refused due to the results of the examination, the employment relationship shall be cancelled as soon as possible or legally challenged on the basis of willful deceit (§ 123 BGB), as long as this is not rendered superfluous by the expiration of the employment agreement.

4. In the following cases, the first indent of the second sentence of No. 2 indent 2 shall in any case apply to the State Office for the Protection of the Constitution:

4.1 For applicants whose entry into the public service commences with their first appointment as a judge.

- 4.2 For applicants who were born in one of the following countries or who hold or have held citizenship in one of the following countries:

Islamic Republic of Afghanistan, Arab Republic of Egypt, People's Democratic Republic of Algeria, Kingdom of Bahrain, People's Republic of Bangladesh, State of Eritrea, Republic of Indonesia, Republic of Iraq, Islamic Republic of Iran, State of Israel (Palestinians), Republic of Yemen, Hashemite Kingdom of Jordan, Republic of Kazakhstan, Kyrgyz Republic, State of Kuwait, Lebanese Republic, Libya, Kingdom of Morocco, Islamic Republic of Mauritania, Sultanate of Oman, Islamic Republic of Pakistan, Kingdom of Saudi Arabia, Federal Republic of Somalia, Republic of Sudan, Syrian Arab Republic, Republic of Tajikistan, Tunisian Republic, Turkmenistan, Republic of Uzbekistan, United Arab Emirates.

- 4.3 In the case of applicants who have no nationality - so-called "stateless persons" - or whose nationality is unknown or undetermined.

- 4.4 Requests for numbers 4.1 to 4.3 shall be made with the agreement of the applicant; Article 15 para 2 to 4 of the Bavarian Data Protection Act shall apply. They are only to be initiated when their hiring - if necessary subject to the receipt and examination of any outstanding and health suitability - is intended. If an inquiry has already been initiated and it turns out that hiring will not take place, the inquiry is to be cancelled immediately.

5. If the suspicion cannot be allayed, the applicant shall be invited to make a statement on the issue. If doubt persists following this statement, the applicant shall not be hired as a civil servant. Neither shall the applicant be hired as a civil servant if he or she refuses to provide consent in items 3 or 4.

6. ¹⁾If hiring the applicant as a public servant is denied because the applicant does not pledge to uphold and defend the principles of liberal democracy as set forth in the Basic Law, the applicant shall be informed of the decision and the reasons therefor in writing. ²⁾If this decision applies to the employment of the applicant as a judge or a public servant (Beamte), then instructions concerning the applicant's right to appeal shall also be included.

7. If there is suspicion that a public servant is violating the obligation to uphold the constitution, his or her employer shall consider whether legal measures are to be taken to ensure that he or she fulfills this duty or whether the person in question should be dismissed.

8. The Bavarian Ministry of the Interior has compiled a list of the most important extremist organizations and organizations influenced by extremists. This list has been published in the Allgemeines Ministerialblatt and in the Bayerischer Staatsanzeiger. The Ministry of the Interior shall update this list as needed.

9. In the cases referred to in paragraphs 6 and 7, the relevant highest authority, the State Ministries of the Interior for Construction and Transport and the State Ministries of Finance for Rural Development and Homeland Affairs shall be informed prior to the decision and kept informed of the progress of the case.

Part 3 Particularities of an Appointment to the Judicial Relationship

The following principles shall also apply when appointing persons to a judicial post independently of any recruitment procedure:

1. prior to each first appointment to a judicial position, the first indent of Part 2 No. 2 Sentence 2 shall be applied for at the State Office for the Protection of the Constitution.

Part 2 Nos. 4, 5, and 6 shall apply mutatis mutandis.

2. In deviation from No. 1, the inquiry to the State Office for the Protection of the Constitution shall be omitted if the person concerned has been active in the DieDSt of the State of Bavaria for at least three years at the time of the decision on the appointment to the judicial relationship and there are no particular suspicious facts.

Part 4 Legal persons governed by public law

The municipalities, associations of municipalities and other legal persons under public law subject to supervision by the State of Bavaria are recommended to proceed in accordance with Parts 1 and 2.

Part 5 Final provision

This notice shall enter into force on 1 January 1992. At the same time, the announcement of the Bavarian State Government on the obligation to adhere to the constitution in public service of 17 March 1973 (StAnz. No. 16, FMBl. p. 149) expires.

^{*) see StAnz No. 49 - page 2; FMBl p. 514}

Employee's name

Instructions concerning duty to uphold the constitution in the public service

According to the Bayerischen Beamten gesetz, civil servants (or Beamte) must abstain from any actions or conduct that go against their allegiance to, and duty to uphold, the principles of liberal democracy laid out in the Basic Law and the Bavarian constitution. Any anti-constitutional activities, and in particular, affiliation with any party, association or organization that rejects or opposes the principles of liberal democracy laid out in the Basic Law and the Bavarian constitution are thus incompatible with this duty (Art. 62 para 2 of the Bayerischen Beamten gesetz).

For this reason, only those who pledge that they represent the liberal democratic principles of the Basic Law and the Bavarian constitution can be appointed as civil servants under the terms of Art. 9 para 1 number 2 of the Beamten gesetz.

The same rules apply to judges in Germany (§9 number 2 of the Richter gesetz; Art. 2 para 1 of the Bayerischen Richter gesetz in connection with Art. 62 para 2 of the Bayerischen Beamten gesetz).

The employee's duty to uphold the liberal democratic principles of the Basic Law is based on § 3 para 1 sentence 2 of TV-L.

According to the decisions of the Federal Constitutional Court, the principles of liberal democracy as set out in the Basic Law are principles that exclude tyranny and despotism and foster freedom, equality, and the people's right to self-determination - to follow the will of the majority (cf. decision of 23 October 1952 - Az. I BvB I 51 – Compilation of the decisions of the Federal Constitutional Court vol. 2 p. 1 ff - ; decision of 17 August 1956 - Az. I BvB 2 51 – Compilation of the decisions of the Federal Constitutional Court vol. 3 p.85ff -). The principles of liberal democracy stand in stark contrast to the totalitarian state, which as an absolute power, rejects freedom, equality, and human dignity. The key principles involved are as follows:

Respect for human rights as concretized in the Basic Law; especially, respect for the right of the individual to life and freedom of personal development, sovereignty of the people, division of powers, accountability of the government, legality of the administration, independence of the courts, the multiple party principle, equal opportunities for all political parties, the right to form and exercise opposition in the framework of the constitution.

Participation in activities that go against the aforementioned principles characteristic of a liberal democratic system is not compatible with the duty of a public servant, regardless of whether or not such activities are carried out within an organization.

Applicants who take part in or support anti-constitutional activities are not eligible for public service positions.

Civil servants and judges who commit such a breach of duty should be aware that disciplinary action will be taken against them with the goal of removing them from service.

In such cases, the employee will be issued an extraordinary notice of dismissal pursuant to § 626 para 1 of the German Civil Code.

Loyalty to the constitution in the public service;

Declaration

After having read the "Instructions concerning duty to uphold the constitution in the civil service," I hereby declare that I affirm the above-mentioned principles of liberal democracy as set forth in the Basic Law and that I am prepared to represent and defend the principles of liberal democracy as set forth in the Basic Law through my actions and behavior. I expressly deny supporting any activities that go against liberal democracy or any of its underlying principles listed above. I further deny having membership, now or at any time, to any organization that goes against these principles. I have read through the list of organizations with unconstitutional objectives.

I understand

- that providing inaccurate or incomplete information is grounds for refusing to hire me, for revoking any appointment that has already been made, or rescinding my employment agreement.
- that I will be removed from service or be given an extraordinary notice of dismissal if I breach this duty.

Bayreuth,
